

well thank the Heavens!

(aka "the cloud"). Despite not one, but two backup failures, your work was ~~not~~ copied up over onto a server farm some~~where out there in California?~~

~~on was~~

As you click away into the night, your ~~the~~ cloud folder seems to be missing some crucial files in a folder you accidentally forgot to select to auto sync.

Here, you think: "Time to implement a 4-3-2-1 backup plan!"

actual

THE END.

(of this exercise)